By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arctic wind blasts and a destructive Tennessee tornado slashed the nation today. The twister ripped through Spring Hill, Tenn., in early morning, causing injuries and heavy damage. It was the most violent aspect of a squall line which churned across the Ohio Valley ahead of the sharp cold front.

Eight buildings were smashed by the tornado which skipped over an orphanage where 180 children slept.

Eastward moving squalls dropped 2 1/2 inch hailstones at Evansville, Ind., and a thunderstorm dumped a sudden inch of rain on Covington, Ky.

The new cold surge blew as far as southern Texas and New England from a bitter reservoir which covered the northern Plains and Rockies. It precipitated sleet from northern Texas through the middle Mississippi and Ohio valley region. It also loosed snow in sections to the north.

The icy front extended from the northern Appalachians southwestward through Texas and northward through southern Oregon. Gusty northerly winds swept much of the nation's midsection, causing much drifting of fresh falls of snow.

Temperatures plunged to 35 degrees below zero in Drummond, Mont. Readings of 20 below and lower were reported in much of Wyoming and Montana. The below-zero belt stretched from the western Great Lakes through the central and northern Rockies.

It was near zero in northern Texas. The mercury dropped sharply as the frigid air swept southward into the Texas Panhandle and through the Pacific Northwest.

In Laramie, Wyo., the reading of 25 below was 47 degrees lower than Thursday morning. Snow was whipped into huge drifts in Nebraska, eastern Colorado and western Kansas. More than seven inches of snow fell in Sidney, Neb.

Heavy snow warnings were issued for northwestern Texas and Oklahoma. Glaze warnings were posted for areas from northern New Mexico eastward through northwestern Kansas and most of Missouri.

The mercury dropped to 11 below in Denver, 20 below in Cheyenne, Wyo., and 17 below in International Falls, Minn.

In Texas, it was 2 above in Dalhart and 4 above in Amarillo, but summer-like weather was reported in southern sections of Texas. The day's high reading in Texas was 91 in McAllen and 86 in Austin, a record for the month of January.

Unseasonably warm weather continued in the Southeast. There were thunderstorms in Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama and Georgia. Tennessee highway patrolmen reported a small tornado in Spring Hill, about 20 miles south of Nashville. Considerable property damage was reported. Two persons suffered minor injuries.

Strange Way to Prove Neglect

WEST COVINA, Calif. (AP)—Police say William Carrell told them he wanted people to think his wife neglected their five children.

She locked the children in their rooms, set the house afire and drove off. His wife, Lois, 25, was out visiting friends. "I didn't think of the children's safety at the time," officers quoted Carrell as saying. "But after I got in my car and drove about three miles I got remorseful and went back."

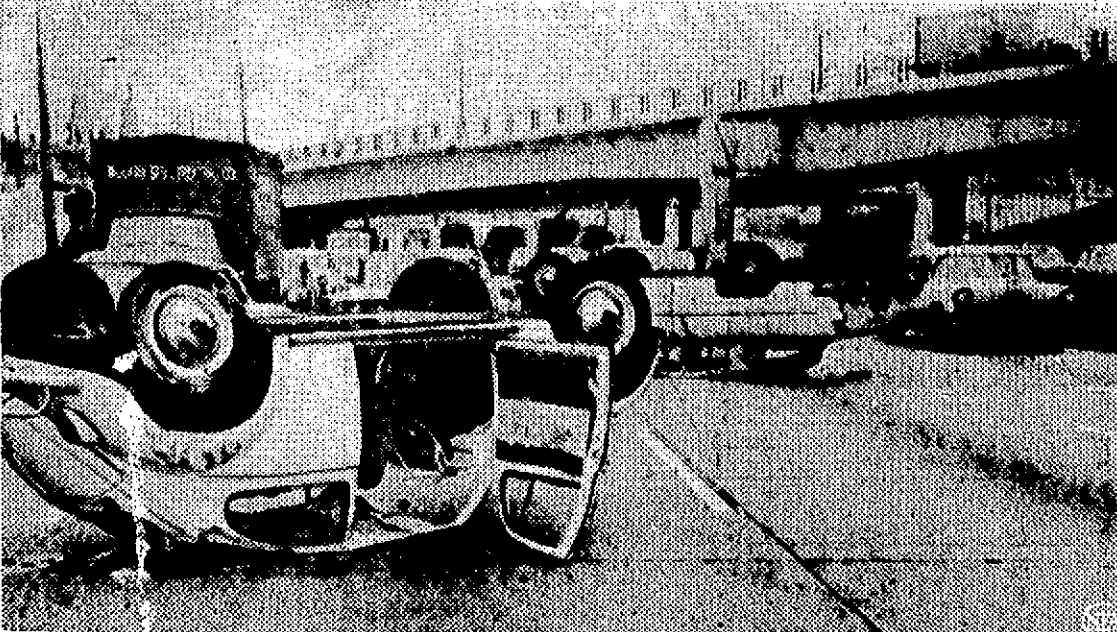

The fire destroyed the Carrell home early Sunday. None of the children, from 1 1/2 to 9 years old, was hurt.

Carrell, 30, was arraigned Thursday on charges of arson and attempted murder.

Cuba Ransom Airlift May Continue

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A two-day postponement in a ransom cargo flight to Cuba stirred speculation today that another airlift possibly may develop for persons eager to leave Fidel Castro's country.

A Pan American Airways DC6B already laden with 15,000 pounds of medicines, had been scheduled to take off today for Havana, but its departure was postponed until Sunday.

Pan American said the Red Cross, to which the flight was donated, requested the postponement. Spokesmen for the airline said they did not know the reason for the postponement.

In Washington the State Department refused to comment on the postponement and a Red Cross spokesman said he had been advised of the shift in dates but did not know why it had been done.

A DC6B seats more than 100 passengers. Without seats, it can carry nearly 200.

Plans were afoot previously for a special flight to bring 250 Cuban-Americans to Miami, but that flight was canceled abruptly last week.

Also eager to leave Cuba are more than 200 Americans, imprisoned on various counterrevolutionary charges, and hundreds of relatives of the Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners who were ransomed for $53 million in badly needed American food and medicine.

The flight set up for Sunday may be the last shipment of ransom installments to Cuba. An ocean cargo liner, the 400-foot SS Shirley Lykes, is scheduled to load 6,000 tons of ransom at Baltimore and then call at Port Everglades, north of Miami. There it will take on another 1,000 tons of food, pharmaceuticals, biologicals, vitamins and insecticides to hand over to Fidel Castro.

Murder Trial Slated for Jury Today

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The trial of Fred Hooks, 17-year-old Negro charged with first degree murder in the death of taxicab driver Charles D. Horton, 36, Nov. 24, was expected to go to the jury today.

Hooks, in the second day of his trial Thursday, testified that he struck Horton with a lug wrench, but didn't mean to kill him.

Hooks said he had asked Horton the amount of his fare while the victim was driving him home and when he learned it was $1, told the driver he had only 50 cents, but would get the remainder at his home.

The defendant testified that a discussion followed and Horton reached for something beneath the front seat. Hooks said he then picked up a lug wrench from the back floor of the car and struck Horton.

Thirteen witnesses appeared in the trial Thursday.

Hooks testified police officers kicked him on the shins to obtain a confession. Officer W. G. Carlous testified the admission was obtained without duress.

Horton was found lying beside his cab in the early morning, severely beaten. He died in a hospital shortly afterwards. He had been robbed of $35.

The state is seeking the death penalty. Hooks had pleaded self defense.

Judge William Kirby overruled a motion to quash the jury panel on grounds that three jury commissioners discriminated against Negroes in choosing veniremen. An all-white jury was seated Wednesday to hear the case.

Artic Air Coming Into Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arctic air swept into Arkansas on the heels of a low pressure front this morning, putting an abrupt end to the pleasant weather of the past several days.

The cold front brought cloudy skies and threats of freezing rain, drizzle or snow to most of the state, and hazardous driving conditions were forecast for late this afternoon and tonight.

Light rain began falling early this morning in southwest Arkansas. It had spread to much of central Arkansas a few hours later and was expected to continue moving northeast at 30 miles per hour.

Overnight lows were only a few degrees colder than Thursday's, ranging from 30 at Fayetteville to 49 in the West Memphis area. Temperatures this afternoon were not expected to be much higher.

The forecast called for highs of 30 northwest to the 60s southeast. Lows of 15 to 20 northwest and in the 40s southwest were predicted for tonight.

Trace of precipitation were reported at Fayetteville and Texarkana during the 24-hour period ending today at 6 a. m.

Students at Ole Miss Pep Harrassment

By BEN THOMAS

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Students at the University of Mississippi have stepped up the tempo of their harassment campaign against James H. Meredith, the Negro who says he may quit school unless the campus situation becomes more conducive to learning.

The renewal of demonstrations comes as a federal grand jury prepares to move rapidly into an investigation of the campus rioting which erupted after Meredith arrived at the university.

Students demonstrated inside the cafeteria Thursday night when Meredith went to eat. When he left the building, more than 300 taunts at the 29-year-old Air Force veteran, first Negro ever knowingly admitted to the university.

Several persons were taken into custody briefly by campus security policemen. Student activity cards were believed to have been taken from two youths. This is a form of campus arrest.

The demonstration was the most serious since Nov. 1 when Chancellor John D. Williams warned students the university faced loss of accreditation unless the campus returned to normal. He said disciplinary action would be taken against unruly students.

The federal grand jury returned 55 indictments Thursday after sitting since Monday.

Federal attorneys remain close-mouthed about the probe, which may last another two or three weeks.

No Agreement in Picketing

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two meetings between representatives of the United Automobile Workers union and officials of the picketed All States Trailer Co. of Jacksonville have produced no agreement, a federal mediation official said Thursday.

A third session was scheduled today. Alexander W. Mille of the federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said.

The union began picketing the trailer manufacturing plant Monday, claiming the firm had reduced wages by eight cents and hour and halted contributions on employees group insurance.

Operation on Moore Success

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—University of Arkansas quarterback Billy Moore was reported in good condition in a Fayetteville hospital today after undergoing surgery for a knee injury he suffered in the Sugar Bowl football game with Mississippi Jan. 1.

Bill Ferrell, Arkansas trainer, said doctors found a torn ligament and a torn lateral cartilage in the knee. "He's doing fine," said Ferrell. "He'll have a good knee again before long." The surgery was Tuesday.

Moore was injured on the 10th play of the game when Mississippi cornerback Buck Randall nailed him with a low, driving tackle while Moore was on a sprint-out. Then in the third quarter, Randall met Moore again at the Ole Miss five yard line, but Moore said his knee gave way just before Randall hit him.

Mississippi beat Arkansas, 17-13.

Going down to get your auto tags? ... better take along the necessary papers such as old driver's license, tax receipt, pink slip and title and new assessment certificate ... the number of your driver's license won't do, you got to have it ... I didn't take my birth certificate but I was asked about it ... however, they let that go ... fortunately, for the poor taxpayer, a pass to get in and out of the Courthouse isn't necessary yet ... Oh, yes, take plenty of money ... incidentally last November City Police arrested six persons for failure to have driver's license ... we suspect this might increase in the future.

U.S. Has to Lead World, Kennedy Says

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has decided to assert a more vigorous and determined American leadership in world affairs even at the cost of creating major frictions with U.S. allies, especially in Europe.

The President's determination is clearly disclosed in a discussion he held with newsmen in Palm Beach last week, a partial text of which the White House made public Thursday night. As originally reported, the views could not be attributed directly to Kennedy.

What he said apparently represents the hardening of an attitude which has been developing within the administration for many months.

The fact that he said it, in response to a question, emphasizes his present conviction that the United States can get the results it wants on some important issues only by following what amounts to an independent policy.

Kennedy said he thought that "too often in the past we have defined our leadership as an attempt to be rather well regarded in all these countries."

"The fact is," he said, "you can't possibly carry out any policy without causing major frictions."

He said he thought the United States "ought to be more aware" of the fact that "we are going to incur, at intervals, people's displeasure."

As evidence, Kennedy noted that in dealing with the Congo situation the United States has been following a policy "somewhat" different from that of Great Britain and other countries in giving strong support to the United Nations in its effort to bring about unification of the divided African nation.

When he first expressed his views to newsmen at Palm Beach he was talking "for background." This meant that reporters could report the views but could not say directly that the President had stated them at a background news conference.

As comments now on the record, they constitute probably the strongest assertion of the need for independent U.S. action on some occasions that a president has made since the United States began to build the present system of alliances 14 years ago.

Ft. Smith Urban Plan Going Ahead

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Mayor Bob Brooksher said Thursday Fort Smith would go ahead with its urban renewal plans, through the City Commission has declared inadequate petitions calling for a city-wide vote on the project.

The commission ruled Thursday the petitions were inadequate because the ballot title was misleading, they failed to identify the particular resolution to be referred and because a copy of the resolution was not attached and filed with the petition.

The petition was filed by the Fort Smith Good Government League, which opposes urban renewal. The project was scheduled to begin Feb. 1, but will be delayed 90 to 120 days by the petition, Brooksher has said.

Miss Olga Hobeck, 57, Thursday disclosed in a letter to the Internal Revenue Service that she had evaded paying income taxes by claiming four dependents on her payroll deduction although she supports only herself and her brother.

Miss Hobeck, who said she never has filed a tax return, works for a Loop law firm for $90 a week. She said she doesn't have much money but she would be willing to pay her back taxes if her brother, Arthur, 50, could get compensation from the Veterans Administration.

"I haven't even got a thousand dollars," Miss Hobeck said. "But unless they (the VA) help my brother, I'd go to jail rather than pay. If only he had been given $15 a week, I wouldn't have done it."

Miss Hobeck said her brother suffered a nervous breakdown in the Army in 1941 and after five months service was honorably discharged as a schizophrenic, or split personality. He has been unable to work since.

The VA said Hobeck was discharged in August 1941, before the start of World War II, and therefore does not qualify for compensation.

The IRS said Miss Hobeck's letter had not yet reached "proper channels." A spokesman said her case will be assigned for review and examination, a procedure the IRS follows when a taxpayer reports an irregularity in return.

Plane With 12 Aboard Crashes

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—A twin-engine Navy patrol plane carrying a crew of 12 crashed and burned as it approached for a landing Thursday night.

Five survivors were taken to a hospital at Kodiak Naval Air Station. They were reported in serious condition.

The plane, a P2V, was approaching a landing strip at the Navy installation when it hit Wincos Mountain, about 1,000 feet high, near the end of the runway.

A Navy spokesman said rain was falling. He said the pilot had not radioed the plane was in trouble.

The base is almost ringed by mountains which rise to about 1,000 feet.

The plane hit in scrub timber about one to two miles from the station.

The plane, based at Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, Wash., was temporarily assigned to the Alaska area. It was on a flight from Anchorage to Kodiak.

Magnolia Man Named to State Highway Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he will appoint Mayor John Harsh of Magnolia to succeed Glen Wallace of Nashville on the state Highway Commission.

When Harsh is sworn in the entire membership of the five-man commission will be Faubus appointees.

The governor said he would send the nomination to the state Senate next Tuesday or Wednesday. Wallace's term expires Monday.

Faubus said he selected Harsh from a list of eight or 10 "fine people who were recommended for this job."

The governor said he wanted to commend Wallace as "a very fine man who has done a very fine job."

Wallace was appointed by Gov. Francis Cherry when the Highway Commission was reorganized under the Mack-Blackwell Amendment in 1953. He drew the 10-year term when the original appointees cast lots for staggered terms. Harsh's appointment is for 10 years.

The Mack-Blackwell Amendment was designed to prevent any one governor from appointing a majority of the commissioners but it did not envision that any governor could win more than two terms.

Faubus will start a fifth term Jan. 15.

Felt Cheated, Didn't Pay Income Tax

CHICAGO (AP)—A stenographer says she hasn't paid her income taxes—an estimated $24,000—in 20 years because she believes the Veterans Administration has cheated her mentally invalid brother.

Miss Olga Hobeck, 57, Thursday disclosed in a letter to the Internal Revenue Service that she had evaded paying income taxes by claiming four dependents on her payroll deduction although she supports only herself and her brother.

Miss Hobeck, who said she never has filed a tax return, works for a Loop law firm for $90 a week. She said she doesn't have much money but she would be willing to pay her back taxes if her brother, Arthur, 50, could get compensation from the Veterans Administration.

Faubus Frowns on Gambling Legislation

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he would veto any legislation which the 1963 legislature might pass to legalize gambling but that he would not move now to close illegal gambling at Hot Springs.

Faubus made the announcement at a news conference at which he released copies of a five-page statement he has mailed to persons who wrote him urging him to take a stand against gambling.

Faubus' position is summed up in the last paragraph, in which he says, "My decision on the matter is the same as on previous occasions when I have faced the problem. I will not support any measure to legalize gambling in Arkansas. I will veto any such measure should I have the duty to approve or disapprove."

The statement is a review of the history of gambling and of its sociological aspects.

"If a matter is inherently evil, its long practice by some erring members of society does not in any way justify the stamp of approval by society as a whole."

Faubus said two main arguments were advanced for legalizing gambling—that persons who wished to gamble will do so whether or not it is legal and that legalized gambling could bring in needed revenues to the state.

He disposed of the first argument by saying, "If the people of any society desire any practice to be adverse to the standards to which they wish their society to conform, they have the right to prohibit such practice. Whether or not such practice can be completely eliminated is beside the point. By the prohibition of such a practice the people can at least prevent the widespread corruption of their society."

The only question to be answered in the revenue argument, Faubus said, is "Does the interest justify the means?"

"In many cases the answer by society should be a resounding 'No!'" Faubus said.

Faubus said gambling in some form, legal or illegal, has existed throughout the history of mankind. "In our time, the people of Arkansas regard excessive or intemperate gambling as inherently evil, and the consequences as bad for the people of the state," he said.

"It is my opinion that a substantial majority of the people of the state consider full-scale, organized casino gambling as intemperate and excessive and its effects as harmful," he said.

"Therefore, any attempts to legalize this kind of gambling, either by act of the legislature or by vote of the people, will be futile," Faubus said.

As for closing gambling operations at Hot Springs, Faubus said he still feels law enforcement in any given area is best handled by local authorities. He has consistently said he regards gambling at Hot Springs as a local problem.

Technically, Faubus said, the State Police force was created as a traffic control agency and not to enforce state laws in local areas.

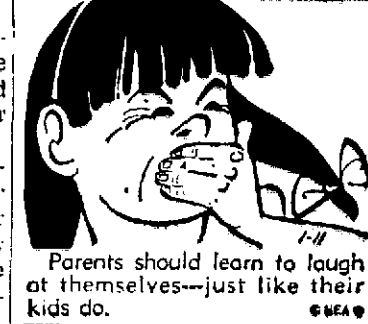

"Widespread use of the State Police in matters other than traffic control could result in further prohibitions against their use," he said, noting that the law which created the State Police agency prohibited its use in labor disputes.

DOROTHY DIX

Her Husband Conscious of Lowly Start

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: A curious problem is casting a shadow over our happy marriage. My husband and I share a deep love. There is every reason for us to be content: pleasant home life, darling infant daughter and similar tastes.

Yet my husband worries because our families were on different financial levels. He came from a low income group and suspects the worst of anyone with a dime more than he.

He can't believe that a neighbor or friend could do a good deed without an ulterior motive. He hasn't a single close friend. I have many.

We recently moved to another state but when we go back home for a visit, he insists upon spending the entire weekend with his family — the only people with whom he is actually at ease.

The fact that he can't accept my family digs deep into my heart. They've never done anything to hurt him yet he criticizes everything they do and say. On our last visit home he finally consented to spend equal time at my parents' house but he might as well have stayed with his own folks; just sat like a bump on a log, watching TV or reading. In vain we tried to draw him into the family circle.

This antisocial attitude was a minor problem at the beginning of our marriage but now it is a major one, what with him growing increasingly rude to others, and the tension building higher and higher.

I realize that this distrust and lack of respect stems from childhood insecurity. I truly love him as a husband but this conflict between us. What can we do? — Worried Wife.

Dear Worried: You're too close to your husband to help him. A third person; either doctor, minister or psychiatrist, or even his employer, could accomplish more.

It must be someone who can gain his confidence. That won't be easy. While seeking such a person, try and interest your husband in reading books which would explain his trouble. But don't let him think you are making an issue of it. There are several recent books on the subject that might hold his attention: "For Dummies Under Pressure," by David Fink and "The Mind Goes North," and "The Mature Mind," by Harry Overstreet. Plant the seed and let it grow. Have patience. You've done a wonderful job of diagnosis.

Dear Helen: I tired of the boy I was going with and told him as much last evening. When he asked why I tired of his company I said he bored me. My mother thinks I was very rude. I saw no reason to beat around the bush. Wasn't it better to tell the truth? —Mixed Up

Dear Mixed: Yours is a good question. Are we justified in telling the truth? Yes, but it should be tempered with kindness—the basis of all good manners.

Instead of bluntly telling the boy you were bored you could have changed the emphasis and

President Has to Have Party Help

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP) — Three things President Kennedy has to worry about with the new Congress opening today are a conservative preservative, a demolition coalition and an attitude of lassitude.

But his greatest worry is how to get his Democrats to act like a party by voting together in a Congress where — if they did — they are so plentiful they could grant him anything he asked.

They outnumber the Republicans 67 to 33 in the Senate and 258 to 176 in the House. There's one vacancy there.

A conservative preservative is any device — like the House Rules Committee — which conservatives of both parties can use in unison to bottle up a Kennedy program they don't think is conservative enough.

A demolition coalition is a wrecking crew of Democrats and Republicans working together to dynamite one of his projects after it has somehow escaped from a bottle.

And an attitude of lassitude is the tardiness — to use a nice word — which sometimes overtakes legislators, as it did last year, putting them so far behind in their work they may go home without finishing it.

Kennedy over-dramatized the importance of the Rules Committee, which he made his first concern of the year, when he said he hopes it is kept at its present size because "we can't function... we're through... if it isn't."

This committee, long famous for its concentration of conservatives from both parties, can bottle up a program, if enough of its members choose to, by not letting it up to the floor of the full House for a vote.

This can't work at all if a simple majority of the House members — 218 of the 435 — have enough interest in a program to want to vote on it. They can, by a vote of 218, force it out of the committee and up to the floor.

So this shouldn't be any problem for Kennedy at all — since the Democrats number 258 in the House — and the Rules Committee could be only a minor nuisance if only 218 out of the 258 Democrats saw eye to eye with him.

In 1961, under Kennedy's urging, but only on a skin-tight vote, the House enlarged the membership of the committee from 12 to 15. This was supposed to dilute the conservative influence by liberalizing it.

At today's opening the committee was to revert to 12 unless the full House voted to keep it at 15. Unless it stays at 15, Kennedy says, all is lost.

The committee conservatives are headed by a very conservative chairman, Rep. Howard Smith, D-Va. He and the Kennedy forces have been having some fierce verbal gymnastics.

Smith insists the committee must go back to 12. His opponents protest the figure must be 15. If the truth were known, Smith may have been fighting tongue-in-cheek without caring much whether the figure stays at 15.

It's easy to see why: 1. If the membership goes back to 12 — a Kennedy defeat — the committee is apt to be blamed for all kinds of Kennedy setbacks this year, whether Smith and his conservative teammates are responsible or not.

Kennedy could even use it as a whipping boy. He already has by insisting it needs 15 members. He has less room to complain if the membership is 15.

Arkansas 4-H Teen Girls Gain Honors

Five Arkansas teen-age girls earned honors for the effective 4-H projects they completed in 1962, according to the Cooperative Extension Service.

Two of the girls took part in the 41st National 4-H Club Congress recently held in Chicago. They are Peggy Dodgen, 16, of Alexander, and Jeanne Jenkins, 17, of Paragould.

Miss Dodgen won the state home economics program award sponsored by Montgomery Ward. Miss Jenkins won the state recreation program award sponsored by John Deere.

The three other Arkansas 4-Hers who earned top awards were Rosemary Tull, 16, both of Bauxite, and Abigail Pounds, 16, of Jonesboro.

Each girl won recognition and an engraved wrist watch for her dairy foods demonstration project, sponsored by the Carnation Company.

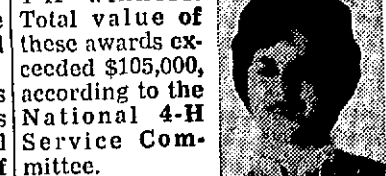

This year's National 4-H Club Congress saw more than 240 college scholarships awarded to

Cincinnati and Loyola Remain Unbeaten

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The top-ranked Bearcats of Cincinnati and second-ranked Ramblers of Loyola reached the halfway mark of their schedules Thursday night with unblemished records.

Cincinnati's two-time NCAA champions, getting a 29-point performance from Ron Bonham, rang up victory No. 12 and their 30th in a row over a two-season span by whipping North Texas State 75-50 in a Missouri Valley Conference game.

Loyola's national scoring leaders, sparked by Jerry Harkness' 28-point effort, pushed over the century mark for the eighth time, clobbering Western Michigan of the Mid-American Conference 107-69 for victory No. 15.

In two other Missouri Valley clashes, eighth-ranked Wichita used Dave Stallworth's 22 points and Ernie Moore's ball-hawking as the main weapons in a 71-65 triumph over St. Louis, and Tulsa defeated Drake 79-72 after a basket by sophomore Carlos Cripado broke it open.

William & Mary upended Virginia Tech 78-63 as Bob Harris scored 25 points and left West Virginia the only unbeaten team in the Southern Conference. In another league game, Furman hit six consecutive foul shots in the last 69 seconds to subdue Davidson 65-63.

Elsewhere, soph Rick Barry scored 31 points as once-beaten Miami, Fla., defeated Florida 86-77. Holy Cross got by Massachusetts 68-61. Providence beat Rhode Island 75-67. New Orleans Loyola edged Memphis State 78-75. Gonzaga belted Washington State 73-56 and Pepperdine downed Hawaii 64-59.

Independents Rack Delight Here 88-74

Perry's Independents beat the Delight Independents 88 to 74 last night at Jones' Field House.

Glen Calhoun tallied 22 for Hope with Wayne Loe making 20 and Larry Bruce 15. For Delight, Emory was high with 19 and Holt made 15.

The local group will play Arkadelphia Saturday night at 7:30 at Jones Field House.

SW Teams in Action Tonight

Southwest Conference basketball teams swing into action again Saturday night and an undisputed leader may emerge from the evening's contests.

Texas A&M, tied with Texas for the conference lead, plays Southern Methodist at Dallas in the featured tilt. Several of the Aggies, including top conference scorer Bennie Lennox, were reported ill with influenza Thursday and coaches feared their play would be affected.

Texas, with a 3-0 conference mark to match the Cadets, plays Texas Tech at Lubbock where the Red Raiders are toughest. The Tech Field House is expected to be packed with Raider partisans.

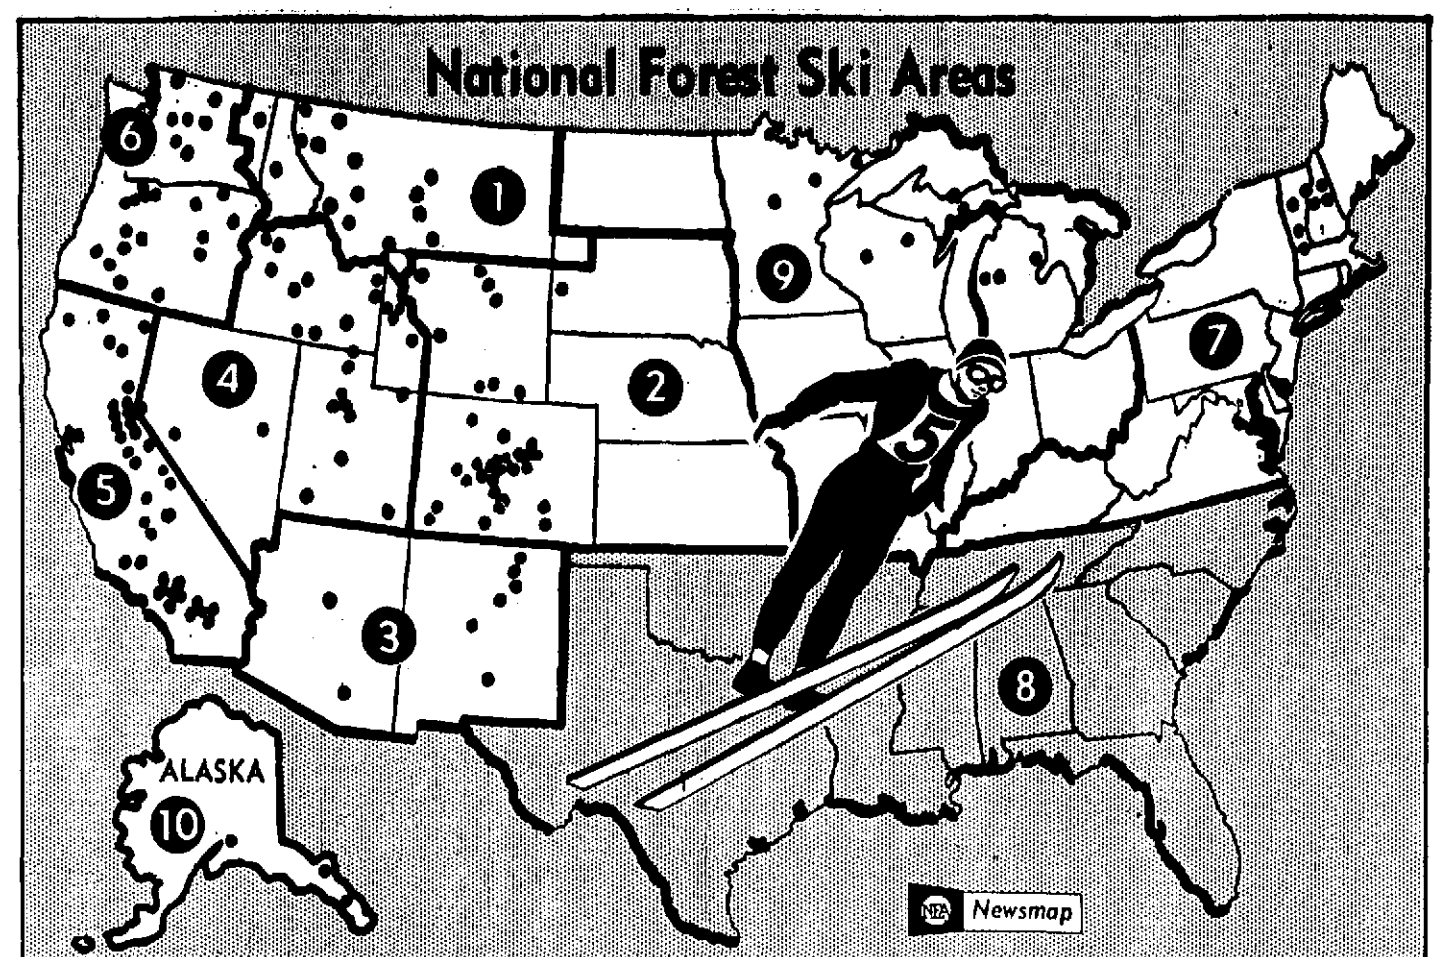

In the other two games, Baylor journeys to Fort Worth to take on the Texas Christian Horned Frogs, still looking for their first victory in three conference starts, and Arkansas comes down out of the Ozarks to play the Rice Owls at Houston.

Richard Still Rated Tops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

They still refer to the retired Maurice Richard as the Babe Ruth of hockey because the Bambino hit the most career home runs, 714, and the Rocket scored the most goals, 544.

But it won't be too long before they pin the Ruth label on Gordie Howe, Detroit's veteran right winger.

Howe is fast closing in on Richard's National Hockey League record. Thursday night, he collected two goals as the Red Wings defeated Montreal, the team for which Richard starred, 3-2. The setback ended the Canadiens' 10-game unbeaten streak.

Charlie Burns' tally at 12:47 of the third period ended the last-place Boston Bruins to whip the pace-setting Chicago Black Hawks 5-4 in the other game scheduled.

Howe's goals pushed his season's total to 17 and his career aggregate to 519. So he needs only 25 to tie Richard. Gordie's second goal in the seventh minute of the final period snapped a 2-2 tie and moved the Wings to within two points of the third-place Canadiens.

The Rajah Is Buried in Texas

HORNSBY BEND, Tex. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, whose almost matchless ability to swing a baseball but gained him the sport's highest honors, was buried Thursday in a cemetery in the hill country of central Texas.

The casket containing the Rajah's body was placed in a grave beside that of his parents. More than 190 of his relatives are buried in the same cemetery.

Hornsby, 66, died Saturday in Chicago from a heart condition. Almost 300 persons, many of them baseball figures, stood around the burial site as the Rev. William A. Croeland of the First Southern Presbyterian Church in Austin conducted services.

Quarterfinals in the Tech Tournament

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Fayetteville, Harrison, Fort Smith and Mulberry gained quarterfinals of the Arkansas Tech Invitational High School basketball tournament Thursday.

Mulberry upset Marmaduke 58-55, Fort Smith dumped Lincoln 57-32, Fayetteville whipped Plainview 62-52 and third-seeded Harrison nipped Green Forest 28-25.

In semifinals play today Fayetteville takes on Harrison and Fort Smith meets Mulberry.

Plainview got off to an early lead against top-seeded Fayetteville, but the northwest Arkansas squad rallied quickly and swarmed to a 37-26 halftime lead.

Ronnie Crawford hit 22 for Plainview to pace all scorers. He had set a scoring record Wednesday night with 49 points.

Paul Ramey led Fayetteville with 15.

Harrison, third-seeded in the tournament, was a little better at ball control play than Green Forest, which led only once, 5-4 at the end of the first quarter.

Green Forest's Claude Russell tied the game 24-24 with one minute to go, but Harrison snapped back on baskets by Biggie Ray Biggie and Marty Milles and a charity shot by Russell.

Paul Hill was high man for Harrison with 10. Jimmy Stafford and Kenny Bailey hit six each for Green Forest.

Mulberry had to come from behind to topple favored Marmaduke. The victors gained the lead 48-47 with 3:25 to go on a basket by John Wilcox. Larry Crabtree hit from the field and Robert Benham popped two free throws to set the pace until the gun.

Benham led Mulberry with 24 points. Ronnie Brewer was high for Marmaduke with 17.

Fort Smith nanded Lincoln its second defeat of the season against 13 victories.

Ronnie Johnson paced the winners with 17 points and Bud Com got 13 for Lincoln.

Winners of today's games will meet in finals Saturday.

Royals Heading for Playoff Berth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Royals, heading for almost a certain playoff berth, are lodged comfortably in third place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association today. They're only a game and a half behind second-place Syracuse.

But where would they be without Oscar Robertson?

The Big O did it again Thursday night. He scored 41 points and snagged 17 rebounds as the Royals downed Boston, the Eastern Division leader, 130-121 in the only game scheduled.

Most of Robertson's heroics came in the final quarter. With Boston leading 100-99, he tied the game with a jump shot and quickly added eight straight points to put the Royals in front to stay. Cincinnati is nine games in front of fourth-place New York.

Moss Out and Phillips in

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced today that Asst. Welfare Commissioner A. J. (Red) Moss will take a leave of absence and Jim Phillips, who is now assistant business administrator at the State Hospital, will take his place.

The development was unexpected. Moss, who took over as acting welfare director Jan. 1, was expected to become welfare commissioner when Commissioner Carl Adams' retirement becomes official on April 1.

Adams is now liquidating accrued annual leave.

No reason was given for Moss' decision to take a leave but Faubus said he might be gone a long as a year. This probably would require appointment of another man as welfare commissioner on April 1.

Compromise on Teacher Retirement

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A compromise on teacher retirement financing reportedly was reached today at a breakfast meeting attended by Gov. Orval E. Faubus and representatives of the Education Department, the Arkansas Education Association and the Teacher Retirement Board.

Education Commissioner Arch Ford and Hoyt Powell, director of the retirement system, attended the meeting, but said any statement would have to come from Faubus.

Faubus was in seclusion, working on his fifth term inaugural address. His office said he might telephone a statement later in the day.

Besides Ford and Powell, AEA President Hays Gibson of Conway, state Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin and A. G. Gabriel of Detroit, an actuary employed by the retirement system board, reportedly attended the meeting.

Faubus said last week that he would hold such a meeting in an effort to arrive at a satisfactory

Hospital staff in 1956. He said he would move into an office in the Welfare Department today, although his appointment is not effective until Jan. 15.

Faubus named Ted Morley, a Little Rock businessman, to replace Phillips at the State Hospital. Morley worked in Faubus' campaign headquarters during the Democratic primary race and was campaign manager for the Democratic ticket in the general election.

Faubus indicated when he named Moss as acting welfare commissioner two weeks ago that Moss would get the top job when Adams went off the payroll.

The appointment was announced in a news media statement released by the governor's office. Faubus did not make himself immediately available for comment.

Moss, who reportedly has been in ill health, could not be reached for comment. His office said he probably could not be reached for several days.

Adams, who was in the governor's office when the statement was handed out, also declined to comment.

Casper in Lead in San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Billy Casper Jr., the amiable round man of golf, has won many major tournaments.

But one that has escaped him is the $25,000 San Diego Open held in his home town.

The 1959 National Open champion made another move to correct this as he led the way into the second round of the event today.

The 31-year-old pro, who plays out of Apple Valley, Calif., shot an initial 64, seven under par, for a one-stroke lead.

The weather remained unsettled after showers pelted the Stardust Country Club course Thursday.

One stroke back of Casper were PGA Champion Gary Player of South Africa, Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., and Stan Leonard of Canada.

Loan for Amity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Loans to two Arkansas cities to finance preliminary planning of low-rent homes were announced Thursday by the Public Housing Administration. They go to Amith, Ark., $2,800 for 14 homes and to the Pike County Housing Authority, $1,600 for eight homes in Delight, Ark. Six of the homes in each location will be for the elderly.

formula for the state's financial contributions to teacher retirement.

The amount of this contribution became the hottest controversy in the 1961 legislature when Faubus and the AEA took different sides. The AEA wanted about $12 million for retirement matching and Faubus wanted the figure pegged at $7.5 million. Faubus' view prevailed.

The Education Department this year put $12.5 million into its budget for retirement matching during the 1963-65 biennium, but the Legislative Council recommended only $9 million. The council urged, however, that the governor and school officials get together on the matter.

In advance of today's meeting, a reliable source said it was expected that a figure of $10.5 million eventually would be agreed upon. This amount, the source said, would halt further loss in financial soundness of the system.
